Started four years ago, during my first university years as an operator in early stage, moved into venture capital to understand how investors evaluate companies, now back on the building side.

TODAY · APEIRA, ITALY'S FIRST HACKERHOUSE (FOUNDER)

- Launched the first hackerhouse in Italy, where founders live and work together (the residency network).
 - Ran Crepuscolo, a weekly hackerspace where 500+ builders and creatives met, built, and shared experiences.
 - Distributes microgrants to high school students who don't want to wait for college to become scientists.
 - Organized a national tour across Italy in a van, running events in 6 cities, with hubs like the Apple Developer Academy (Naples) and Bending Spoons, and guests such as Alberto Sangiovanni Vincentelli.
- 30+ events (hackathons, lectures, hackerspaces) · 1,200 people · €50K in prizes/grants.

TODAY · MOONSTONE, A DEEPTech, CLIMATE & HEALTH VC (CHIEF OF STAFF)

- Owned the weekly team reporting cadence and internal coordination.
 - Conducted startup scouting and built the investment pipeline; supported commercial recruiting across 2 portfolio companies and ran the hiring process for an intern.
 - Led fund setup, from modelling (waterfall, fee structure, return scenarios) through to the first LP approach.
 - Built the centralized portfolio operations platform covering updates, team Q&A, documentation, LP reporting, VC ecosystem mapping, and an operating layer for startup support, establishing a single source of truth for the team.
- 75 companies tracked · 100+ reports · 500+ company updates automated.

MARKET DISCOVERY PROJECT (NDA)

- Led an end-to-end market discovery process, mapping addressable niches and defining a go-to-market strategy based on internal company analysis.
 - Built the company's initial hiring pipeline.
- Output guided ~€10M in investment decisions.

EARLY STAGE STARTUPS (OPS & BUSINESS VALIDATION)

- Validated different ideas and built the business from scratch, always keeping a strong focus on operations. Using data analysis to create operational workflows and to drive business modeling and pricing.
- Team of 4 to 6 · 4 standardized tracking lines.

STUDIES

BA Economics & Business at Milan Bicocca, with a year at Universidad de Cantabria in Spain.

ABOUT

Passionate about geopolitics and disruption science, and a self-proclaimed "wannabe athlete." I thrive in messy environments, where I break down chaos and turn it into a clear path, watching the pieces click into place like a puzzle.

WHAT I'M LOOKING FOR

Learn as much as I can from experienced people and experiment hands-on.

LANGUAGES

Italian (native), Spanish (fluent), English (working).
